

INSTITUTIONALIZING ACCOUNTABILITY

OCTOBER 4-5, 2018

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA LAW SCHOOL
229 19th Ave S, Minneapolis, MN

THURSDAY

2:30-4:00

PANEL 1: METHODOLOGICAL APPROACHES TO HUMAN RIGHTS RESEARCH IN LATIN AMERICA

Barbara Frey: Observatory on Disappearances and Impunity in Mexico Database; Lisa Hilbink: Understanding Citizen Perceptions of and Engagement with the Judicial System in Chile; Ana Forcinito: Documenting Truth, Trials and Memory in El Salvador & Guatemala; Patrick McNamara: Forced Disappearances and Mass Violence in El Salvador, 2010-2016

4:00-5:00

KEYNOTE

Dr. Karina Ansolabehere,
Flacso Mexico:
What we are Learning from Interdisciplinary Human Rights Research

5:00-6:00 Reception

FRIDAY

8:00-9:00

Registration & Breakfast

9:00-10:00

KEYNOTE

Professor Martha Davis,
Northeastern University:
Human Rights Accountability:
Learning from "Small Places"

10:00-11:30

PANEL 2: Assessing Accountability in Post-Conflict Settings

Leigh Payne: From the Holocaust to Apartheid: Corporate Complicity in Human Rights Violations; Michael Soto: Associational groups, memories, and transitions to peace: the case of Northern Ireland; Fionnuala Ni Aolain: Reparations as a Means to Enable Transformation in Conflict and Post-Conflict Settings

11:30-12:15

Lunch

12:15-1:45

PANEL 3: Evaluating New Strategic Frames for Human Rights Protection

Amanda Lyons: A Human Rights Framework to Monitor Special Zones for Industrial Agriculture in Colombia; Steve Meili: Using International Human Rights Law to Protect Refugees; Tracey Blasenheim: From Dissemination to Implementation: Responding to Compliance Crises with the Laws of Armed Conflict

Read more about the University of Minnesota Human Rights Lab at law.umn.edu/human-rights-center/minnesota-human-rights-lab and cla.umn.edu/human-rights/research/human-rights-lab.

HUMAN RIGHTS LAB

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA